【授業の概要・目的】
In this seminar we will read and discussion a series of classic texts in analytic philosophy, covering a wide range of different topics. Students will be encouraged to actively participate in discussions concerning questions such as whether immortal life would be desirable, how individuals relate to their bodies, what it means to be free, the nature of regret and remorse, and what justice requires.
【到達目標】
<ul style="list-style-type: none">- To introduce students to a range of classic texts and thinkers in philosophy.- To foster students' abilities to participate in constructive philosophical debate and to improve students' confidence in articulating their ideas.- To develop students' communication and presentation skills.- To develop students' abilities to reason critically, to interpret philosophical texts and to construct and critique arguments.
【授業計画と内容】
Week 1 Introduction Week 2 - 3 Would Immortality Be Desirable? Week 4 - 5 What Gives Life Meaning? Week 6 - 7 Am I My Body? Week 7 - 8 Can I Know Others? Week 9 - 10 What Can I Regret? Week 11 - 12 What is Freedom? Week 13 - 14 What Does Justice Require? Week 15 Feedback Class
NB this is a representative sample of topics from previous years - the precise topics that we cover throughout the semester will depend in part on the shape that the discussion takes and what students find interesting.
【履修要件】
Students will be expected to read one text in English in preparation for class each fortnight, to be provided by the instructor. Where possible Japanese translations of the texts will be provided.
