[Overview and purpose of the course]
This course is designed to provide graduate students with an opportunity to develop their ability and confidence when presenting field-specific content to an informed audience. Giving presentations in an academic setting, whether it is in a classroom, laboratory context, or at a conference, has become increasingly necessary for students at the graduate level. Course content extends from how to greet the audience to how to answer audience questions.
[Course objectives]
Students successfully completing this course will be able to do the following:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Create an appropriate presentation slideshow for a conference or a research laboratory presentation; • Clearly introduce and provide an overview of the talk through appropriate signposting; • Properly display visual aids to enhance audience understanding of research data; • Use posture and movement to engage the audience; • Use gestures and gaze to emphasize information and connect with the audience; • Produce a presentation; and • Answer audience questions.
