[授業の概要・目的]

The main purpose of this course is to develop students’ English communication skills (reading and writing, listening and speaking) through examination and discussion of recent scientific research studies in Education. Students will be assigned readings to undertake, as well as to look for their own pertinent research articles to read. They will be asked to write brief reports about what they have read, to make short presentations in class, and to contribute to discussions.

[到達目標]

The objective of this course is to facilitate the development of students' reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills in English through active engagement in authentic tasks relevant to the study of Education. In the process, they will also need to apply critical thinking skills to the materials they read and discuss, and to develop skills in collaborative work with others.
