[授業の概要・目的]
By solving Modern Standard Arabic (Fusha) practice problems accompanied by detailed explanations, students will aim to acquire and solidify basic grammar, vocabulary, and expressions, through interactive exercises of weekly learnt material. This class is aimed at beginners who have never studied Arabic. There are two forms of Arabic: the standard form, Fusha (Modern Standard Arabic), and the regional spoken forms, Anmiyah. In this class, you will learn Fusha (Modern Standard Arabic). As an Arab myself, I bring not only linguistic expertise but also the cultural depth and soul of the Arabic language into the classroom. In teaching Arabic to Japanese students at Kyoto University, I aim to connect language with lived culture, history, and ways of thinking, allowing students to engage with Arabic as a living, expressive medium rather than a set of grammatical rules.
[到達目標]
In the first semester, the following goals will be achieved: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- To be able to understand simple Arabic sentences while building on the grammar points learned in grammar class</li> <li>- To be able to make simple greetings and self-introductions</li> <li>- To acquire a basic understanding of the language, culture, society, and history of Arabic-speaking regions</li> </ul>
[授業計画と内容]
Learning is linked to grammar lessons. Through practice questions and other activities, students will solidify the foundations of the four language skills (reading, listening, speaking, and writing). Class 1: Lesson 0: Letters and Pronunciation, Let's Write Your Names  Class 2: Lesson 1: Gender. 【授業外学修 ( 予習・復習 ) 等】

As preparation, read through the material you plan to study that day in advance, look up the meanings of any new vocabulary, and solve the practice problems in the designated sections. Also, be sure to have any questions or concerns ready.

We will also be posting reference materials and model answers on LMS from time to time, so please use them to help you review.

【その他 ( オフィスアワー等 ) 】

As it is difficult to provide adequate instruction if there are a large number of students, the number of students per class is limited to 45.

Please feel free to ask questions during or after class if you have any questions.
